

Timna Park

Ancient wonders in a surreal landscape

Explore sandstone formations and copper mines dating to the days of Pharaohs. Solomon's Pillars are a must-see. Timna's copper mines were vital to Egyptian Pharaohs over 3,000 years ago. The desert park features rock carvings of chariots and deities, some over 6,000 years old.

Jealous? Don't be. You look better than they do, and you probably can draw better too. Don't attempt graffiti on the cave walls, but you can try your hand at sand bottle art at the visitor center.
