

Avdat

The desert's hidden city and spring

Avdat is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. A spring-fed canyon has cascading waterfalls and dramatic desert cliffs. Avdat thrived along the Incense Route, Nabateans transporting frankincense and myrrh to the Mediterranean. Its wine production was legendary, techniques being revived today by local vineyards. Take a sip from a cool glass or sip herbal tea among the ruins. Smell any incense?